FIREMEN ASK $25 MONTHLY SALARY BOOST

City Department Members Also Want $50 a Year For Clothing.

Mansfield firemen today petitioned city council for a $25-a-month pay boost and a $50-a-year clothing allowance.

If granted, the increase would lift the pay of regular firemen to $230-a-month, fire captain's to $255 and the fire chief's to $275. It would cost the city $1,000 more a month.

The petition, signed by 37 firemen, including Fire Chief L. J. Steele, was filed in the council chambers this morning. It asks that "immediate" action be taken on the request.

There were no immediate reports to indicate that other city employes are planning to ask pay increases. Police Chief Meade K. Bates said there are no plans underway to ask for a boost for the 40 men in his department.

Raised Last June.

Firemen, along with most other city employes, were given a $10-a-month increase in June which raised regular firemen's pay to $205-a-month, fire captain's to $230 and the fire chief's to $250.

The June pay increase also made permanent a $10-a-month bonus which was granted in December, 1945, and would have ended in December of this year.

Police pay is virtually the same as firemen's. Scales range from $205 for patrolmen to $250 for the chief but police lieutenants are paid $215. Starting pay for probationary firemen and policemen is $160-a-month.

The pay raise granted in June increased the city's payroll by about $2,500-a-month and granted increases to approximately 200 employes.

4 OF 7 CRASH VICTIMS REMAIN IN HOSPITAL

Two persons remained in "poor" condition at General hospital today of injuries suffered in a two-car, head-on collision shortly before midnight Saturday on the Shelby-Mansfield road. Two of five other victims of the crash also remained in the hospital.

The state highway patrol said the driver of one automobile, Carl Fowler, Willard, had been arrested on a charge of operating on more than his share of the highway. Fowler, who suffered lacerations and contusions, was released from the hospital yesterday.

Seven persons, including the drivers and passengers in both vehicles, were injured in the Shelby-Mansfield road accident, which occurred on "Dead Man's" curve about three miles north of Mansfield. The injured were rushed to General hospital by ambulances.

In poor condition were Royden C. Schafer, 52, of Shelby, a passenger in the car driven by Vern M. Long, 60½ South Weldon avenue, and Miss Leone Strimple, 25, of Willard, a passenger in Fowler's car.

Hospital attendants said Schafer suffered a possible skull fracture and internal injuries, fractured nose and lacerations of the scalp. Miss Strimple suffered a fractured pelvis, possible skull fracture and internal injuries.

John Korbis, 42, of Shelby, was described as in "fair" condition with multiple rib fractures, fractured wrist, left shoulder, right hip, and possible skull fracture.

Sherman Wills, 51, of Shelby, received a possible skull fracture and internal injuries and lacerations of the scalp. His condition was reported "good."

Long, driver of one of the automobiles, received lacerations of the scalp and multiple abrasions, but was not admitted to the hospital. Roy Billotte, 33, of Fairfax, was released after emergency treatment for abrasions.

The front end of both cars were demolished, the highway patrol reported.

GOVERNOR DIES

JACKSON, Miss. — (UP) — Gov. Thomas L. Bailey, 58-year-old Mississippi chief executive, will be buried today in Meridian, where he started his political career 30 years ago. Bailey, who died Saturday night of complications following an operation for malignancy of the spine, had been ill since last January.

Burglars Get Scarce Articles

Burglars with an eye for "scarcity" items such as nylon hose and electrical appliances looted a Mansfield residence while the family was out of town for the weekend, stealing "several hundred dollars" worth of goods and $78 in cash, the sheriff's department reported today.

Listed as missing from the home of H. H. Farquhar, 990 Lexington avenue, were an electric sweeper, electric mantel clock, electric roaster, electric iron, double-barrelled 16-gauge shotgun, single-barrel shotgun, single shot .22 caliber rifle, three pocket watches, one wrist watch, five pairs of nylon hose and $78 in cash.

Farquhar said the cash included three $5 bills, three $1 bills, $20 in wrapped dimes, $15 in quarters, $15 in mixed change and $10 in pennies.

SMASH WINDOW TO ENTER HOUSE

He said the house was broken into during a 36-hour period between 9 a. m. Saturday and 9 p. m. yesterday. Entrance was made by breaking a window in the back door.

The sheriff's department was conducting an intensive investigation today. An accurate appraisal of the loss has not been made, pending a complete inventory. Mrs. Farquhar said more articles may be missing.

Police were holding a Lily street man in connection with the reported attempted burglary of the home of Mrs. Elly Jones, 129 North Adams street, Saturday night. Police said the man was found in a closet at the residence of Mrs. Jones.

Mary Stutz, 556 Daisy street, told police a man entered her residence at 1:30 a. m. today. He fled when she called for help.

Radio 'Ham' Saves Bacon of Motorists

CANTON —(AP)— Quick work by a local amateur radio fan brought rescue yesterday to nearly 300 motorists caught in a "terrific snow storm" some 1,750 miles away in New Mexico.

Paul L. Hughes of Hartville, a radio fan since 1940 and a navy operator on a Catalina patrol plane during the war, was listening on the 10-meter band when he caught a message, "trapped in terrific snow storm 65 miles west of Albuquerque. Can you get help?"

Answering the call, Hughes learned nearly 300 motorists were battling the storm, moving at snail's pace or stalling when they ran out of gasoline.

Switching on his transmitter, he sent an emergency call and raised an Albuquerque amateur, Foy A. Roger, who notified the New Mexico state police. The rescue party was under way 26 minutes after the call for help.

Hughes later contacted the sender of the distress call and learned it was Dale L. Hauck of Battle Creek, Mich., another amateur radio fan, whose car was equipped with a mobile transmitter.

MERCURY QUITS ITS DIDOS, DROPS BACK

After a week-end marked by record-breaking or abnormally high temperatures, the thermometer plunged to normal early today, accompanied by a cold drizzle and low overcast.

Many Sunday strollers abandoned coats yesterday and the highways leading out of Mansfield were crowded as Mansfielders took advantage of what may prove to be the last "June in November" Sunday. A high of 73 degrees was recorded at Hayesville yesterday.

The forecast for Ohio is occasional light rain or drizzle today followed by partly cloudy weather tonight and Tuesday. Continued cool temperatures are predicted for today and tomorrow.

The International News Service said Cleveland yesterday had a record 76 degrees, or two degrees higher than the previous 74 for the same date in 1938. Similar high temperatures were recorded for the entire state, with a high of 80 in Cincinnati. Washington, D. C., perspired when the thermometer hit a high of 86.

CLOSING PROCESSION—This impressive picture shows the interior of St. Peter's church as the clergy walked from the altar at the closing of the pontifical mass, celebrated Sunday morning by Bishop Karl J. Alter of Toledo.

1,800 Crowd St. Peter's Church For Final Centennial Celebration

Eighteen hundred worshippers crowded into St. Peter's Catholic church at 11 a. m. yesterday to participate in the centennial pontifical mass said by Bishop Karl J. Alter and to hear Bishop Michael J. Ready preach the centennial sermon.

Hundreds more gathered on South Mulberry street in front of the church to watch the procession of bishops, monsignori, priests, and servers march into the church from the rectory.

Again at 7:30 p. m. the church was filled for the confirmation of 125 children and 300 adults, administered by Bishop Alter.

In his centennial sermon, Bishop Ready, a former member of St. Peter's parish, stressed the contribution of the more than 700 men and women in the armed forces in World War II, adding that their source of patriotism was the truths taught from the pulpit of St. Peter's church and the classrooms of St. Peter's school.

* * *

Patriotism Is Virtue.

"Patriotism is not a feverish emotion, not just a feeling," Bishop Ready declared. "Patriotism is a virtue. It breathes noble sentiments, but it is not sensational. It is a solid thing and should be cultivated as a Christian virtue. The best citizens of any country are the citizens who believe in God."

Bishop Ready also paid tribute to the three resident pastors of St. Peter's who made the church what it is today. These three are Rev. Andrew Magenhann, who served from 1869 to 1898 during the church's worst financial reverses; Msgr. F. A. Schrieber, pastor from 1898 to 1922, who was instrumental in building the present church, and Msgr. R. C. Goebel, pastor here since 1922, who has done much in Catholic education and is known for his deep spiritual resourcefulness. The total length of service of these three pastors, so far, is 75 years.

* * *

Former Priests Return.

The services yesterday brought back to the city a large number of priests who formerly were stationed in Mansfield. Msgr. Ferdinand A. Schreiber, the fifth pastor of St. Peter's and present pastor of St. Bernard's church, Akron, was present in the sanctuary and participated in the services.

Rev. M. J. Doyle, a former assistant, and presently the Toledo diocesan direrctor of charities, was deacon of the mass. Other former assistants present were Rev. J. F. Hebbeler, pastor of St. Thomas Aquinas church, Toledo; Rev. J. I. Schill, assistant principal, Calvert high school, Tiffin, and Rev. M. J. Walz, assistant pastor, St. Wendelin's church, Fostoria.

Seven Monsignori.

Seven monsignori besides Msgr. Goebel were present for the pontificial mass. They were Msgr. A. J. Sawkins, pastor of Immaculate Conception church, Toledo; Msgr. J. S. Arnoldi, pastor of St. Joseph's church, Fremont; Msgr. James S. Elder, pastor of St. Rose church, Lima; Msgr. William C. Zierolf, pastor of St. Mary's church, Sandusky; Msgr. E. G. Eordogh, pastor of St. Stephen's, Toledo; Msgr. Joseph Casey, chancellor of the Columbus diocese, and Msgr. Schreiber.

Singing for the mass was furnished by St. Peter's male choir, under the direction of Sister M. Theoclete. Raymond E. Baum was organist.

The four-day centennial celebration came to a close with the administering of the secrament of confirmation by Bishop Alter to a class of 125 adults and 300 children last evening. Assisting Bishop Alter as deacon and subdeacon were two former members of St. Peter's church, Rev. Kenneth A. Hans, son of Mrs. A. Hans, 355 Altamont avenue, and Rev. William A. Pfeifer, son of Mrs. Catherine Pfeifer, 121 Columbia avenue.

U. S., CHINA SIGN NEW PACT

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States signed an extensive five-year treaty of "friendship, commerce and navigation" today with the embattled Chinese government of Chiang Kai-Shek.

State department officials familiar with the negotiations said emphatically that conclusion of the pact at this time is not a move to strengthen Chiang's national government in its virtual civil war with the Chinese communists.

It has no political significance whatever, these officials — who cannot be named—told a reporter.

Ambassador John Leighton Stuart and Robert Lacy Smyth, special U. S. commissioner and consul general at Tientsin, signed for this country in a ceremony at Nanking. Foreign Minister Wang Shih-Chieh and Wang Hua-Cheng, chief of the Chinese treaty department, represented China.

The bulky, 10,000-word document will become effective when it is ratified by the U. S. senate and the Chinese legislative Uyan.

Unrest Flaring Again In Trieste

TRIESTE — (INS) — Augmented military police details patrolled Trieste streets today where 10,000 Italians had demonstrated against the Allies decision to internationalize the port area.

The Sabath demonstrators attacked Yugoslav pedestrians and stoned civilian police. MP's dispersed the crowd when it formed before the Allied Military Government headquarters.

SHE'S 105 TODAY

PRICE BOARD CLOSES TODAY

Mansfield's War Price and Rationing Board, four years and four months in existance in the city, closes shop today at 5 p. m. upon official order from the central control agency in Washington, D. C.

C. C. Beelman, manager of the board office for four years, said he and six other clerks will work on a clean-up program at the office until Nov. 12. On that day, 10,000 OPA office workers in the 1,642 boards throughout the nation will be notified that their jobs have expired.

Beelman said that all personnel of the local office will be assisted in obtaining other work through the Employes' Employment Security program, set up in August of this year.

Bishop Visits Girl's Sickbed To Administer Confirmation

Bishop Karl J. Alter of Toledo had a busy day yesterday but he wasn't too busy to make a special trip to see a little sick girl and administer the Sacrament of Confirmation to her.

Helen Wilkinson, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilkinson of 252 Woodvine avenue, has been ill for the past two years and was too ill to go to St. Peter's church to be confirmed last night.

Dorothy, her nine-year-old sister, had received confirmation instructions for several weeks and was happy at the prospect of being confirmed.

Hearing about Helen, Bishop Alter decided to visit her bedside and give her the sacrament of Confirmation. So, accompanied by Msgr. R. C. Goebel and Rev. T. M. Downey of Mansfield, and by Rev. Leo F. Griffin and Rev. Bernard E. Smith of Toledo, the bishop went out and paid a visit to the sick girl.

First the bishop and Helen had a long talk about sickness and sacraments and particularly confirmation and what it means. After that, with the aid of the four priests who accompanied him, the bishop administered the Sacrament of Confirmation.

The bishop returned to Toledo today. He left behind him many fond memories of a glorious Centennial Celebration. But no one of those who witnessed the ceremonies has a fonder memory of the day than does Helen. After all it isn't every day tht you are visited by a bishop.

Control of Congress at Stake As Nation Prepares to Vote In First Big Election Since War

Parties Apply High Pressure In 16 Key States.

(By Associated Press)

The balloting in 16 key states appears likely to chart the nation's legislative course for the next two years when upwards of 35,000,000 voters choose tomorrow among more than 1,000 candidates for national and state offices.

These states, stretching from Massachusetts to California, hold the major share of close contests which will determine Democratic or Republican control of the house and senate in the 80th congress.

Many of them also are among the 33 where governorships are at stake in this off-year election.

Fight for Control.

With both major parties making their usual last-minute victory claims, attention centered on a final Republican drive to wrest nine senate seats from the Democrats. Added to those which they claim already are in the bag, the nine would give the GOP control of the senate for the first time since the New Deal came into power.

These seats are in New York, Massachusetts, Missouri, Idaho, Montana, Washington, West Virginia, Wyoming and New Mexico. Democrats insist they not only will win in these races but are unwilling to concede that the Republicans have a better than even chance to take over in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Wisconsin.

In the hope of cashing in on what many observers have called a trend against the "ins," the Democrats have gone out after Republican-held senate places in Kentucky and California with what they contend are fair prospects of winning both.

These 15 states — along with Illinois which has no senatorial contest—promise to furnish most

TEEN-AGERS URGE 'YES' VOTE

Mansfield's youth sat back today to await the verdict of their elders in two election contests into which they entered with unprecedented vigor.

Teen-agers took a leading part in the campaigns to effect passage of the 3-mill levy to permit a raise in the salaries of Mansfield teachers and of the two-tenths mill levy to provide supervised recreation for the community's children.

They've composed essays, drawn posters, spoken before civic and social clubs and distributed literature in support of the levies.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored an essay and poster contest on the 3-mill levy from which 12 winners were selected in elementary and high schools. Speech students under the direction of Earl L. Heasley, Senior high speech coach, and Dan Haber appealed for passage of the three-mill levy before more than a dozen organizations.

Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts distributed Vote-Day leaflets over the week-end.

The three-mill levy which will produce approximately $190,000 a year for a period of five years will raise the minimum and maximum salaries of Mansfield's teachers $500 above what is now being paid them.

The two-tenths mill levy, which would cost the average home owner approximately 60 cents a year for five years, would provide for a recreation director for the city whose job it would be to organize recreation for both young and old in central sites throughout the community.

Amputation Frees Victim From Trap

WILMINGTON —(INS)— Fifty-five-year-old Sam Ellis rested in Hale hospital, Wilmington, today after a dramatic woodland operation in which his right leg was amputated by a surgeon whose only instrument was a small knife.

Ellis was conscious throughout the two hours that Dr. W. L. Regan of Wilmington worked to free him from a vise formed by a fallen 35-ton tree and its stump.

Polls open—6:30 a. m.; close 6:30 p. m.

OHIO ELECTION SPOTLIGHTS HOT GOVERNOR RACE

Democrats Pin Victory Hope on Lausche as GOP Fights to Unseat Him.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Ohio voters, perhaps 2,215,000 strong, will elect their government officials tomorrow and may decide the political future of two presidential possibilities.

And by selecting a U. S. senator and 23 members of the national house of representatives, they also will weigh heavily in the determination of whether the new congress shall be controlled by Democrats or Republicans.

The present Ohio delegation in the house contests of 17 Republicans and six Democrats.

Attention will be centered tomorrow on former Gov. John W. Bricker, Republican candidate for senator, and Gov. Frank J. Lausche, a Democrat seeking a second two-year term.

Bricker, nominee for vice president in 1944, is shooting for the presidency, his friends say, and election now obviously would strengthen his position in the Republican convention of 1948.

Reece Aids GOP.

Governor Lausche is the candidate feared most by Republicans. They are so concerned that they have brought here their National chairman, B. Carroll Reece, to help wind up the campaign in a radio broadcast tonight.

The Republicans have been unreserved in their anticipation of victory in all state-wide contests except governor. Democratic leaders say Lausche has a better chance than any of their other candidates.

Should Lausche be the lone Democratic candidate to survive in tomorrow's balloting, his stature in the party would be considerably enlarged—so much so, his associates say, he would merit respect when his party gets to the business of nominating a presidential candidate.

Opposing Bricker is U. S. Senator James W. Huffman, a Columbus attorney who was appointed to the office when Senator Harold H. Burton, a Republican, resigned last year to become a member of the U. S. supreme court.

TWIN CITY TEACHERS READY FOR WALKOUT

MINNEAPOLIS—(INS)—Threats of strike by public school teachers faced the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul today.

The union rejected a board of education offer to boost the maximum yearly wage for teachers holding bachelors' degrees to $3,600 from the present $3,000. They demand a $5,000 maximum.

A committee representing 1,200 St. Paul teachers set next Saturday as the deadline for meeting salary increase demands.

PAPERS HIKE PRICE

COLUMBUS —(UP)— An afternoon paper cost a nickel here today as both the Columbus Citizen and Columbus Dispatch raised their prices to five cents per copy.

Cloudy Skies Seen For Tomorrow In Richland Area.

Last minute preparations for tomorrow's election of congressional, state, judicial and county officials were being made by board of elections officials today as political leaders cocked speculative eyes at rainy skies.

The weatherman forecast cloudy skies for election day in northern Ohio with little prospect of rain. It will be considerably cooler tomorrow, he said.

Despite the general tendency of rain to keep some voters away from the polls, a record "off year" vote total as high as 29,000 is expected. A new high in numbers of registered voters — 22,795 — was reached this year. Voters outside Mansfield and Madison township need not register.

* * *

Talking About Over.

Political campaigning by candidates had reached a virtual standstill today, although mailed material was still being received by voters and some workers were still making occasional personal calls.

The board of elections was distributing supplies such as booths, tables, ballot cans and absentee voters ballots—of which 193 have already been cast—to precinct officials.

Polls are to open at 6:30 a. m. and close at 6:30 p. m. Banks and the city building will close at noon while most other employers are planning to give their workers time off to cast their ballots.

The board also announced two more changes in locations of precinct voting places. Instead of casting ballots in the office of Dr. J. J. Clark, 82 Park avenue west, residents in the Third Ward, precinct C are to vote at the R. B. Gardner garage, 116 Park avenue west. And the voting place for Sixth Ward, precinct E will be at the residence of E. W. Garn, 218

SWINDLE PAID FOR LUSH LIFE

NEW YORK —(UP)— William A. Nickel, confessed swindler who cheated his employer out of nearly a million dollars, bought his wife $40,000 worth of jewelry, plus two mink coats, then set himself up in a $10-a-day love nest where he entertained other women, police reported today.

The hideway of the $100-a-week cashier of the Mergenthaler Linotype company was a hotel suite in midtown Manhattan where he entertained women lavishly, purchased Scotch whiskey by the case and gave bellboys $20 tips, police said.

Evidence of Nickel's high living was uncovered by the district attorney's office yesterday following an intensive investigation of the $832,000 swindle.

Nickel and two other persons were under arrest and two others were sought as accomplices in the gigantic hoax that ended last week when another employe became curious about why the linotype firm should pay out huge sums of money to a company it never received anything from.

Under arrest here were Isadore Rappaport, 55, an ex-convict suspected of being the brains behind the plot, and Joseph Kupsnecker, 50, also an ex-convict, who authorities said cashed $450,000 worth of the fraudulent checks.

Head-On Collision Bring Death To 9

KINGSTON, Pa. — (UP) — State police counted nine dead today in a head-on collision described as one of the worst highway accidents ever recorded in Pennsylvania.

Included among the victims were a 20-year-old mother and her baby which Luzerne county coroner Lewis S. Reese said "was born and died at the scene of the accident." The accident occurred yesterday about nine miles west of here.

Winchell — On Broadway

JOHN ROGGE'S sensational report about well-known Americans (who ran errands for pro-Nazis before and during the war) is packed with documentary evidence. The facts come from official Nazi archives plus first-hand interviews with many of the Nazi leaders who had these American chumps on a string. In short, this is the inside dope about the dopes who were duped. But Americans who read this colyum and heard our broadcasts were not amazed.

* * *

From the Rogge report: "It was a fantastic scheme which the Nazis had to get Jonh L. Lewis, the labor leader, to come out against the re-election of President Roosevelt. The scheme involved Hermann Goering, a Nazi agent by the name of Joachim Hertslet, and a promoter in the oil business by the name of William Rhodes Davis."

From the Dec. 23, 1940, Winchell colyum: "W. R. Davis, connected with Nazi oil deals for years and operating oil cracking plants at Hamburg, Germany, is allegedly behind the new drive against aid to Britain."

From a 1941 WW colyum: "W. R. Davis, the oil operator, has been collaborating with Joachim Hertslet in his oil dealings. Hertslet is a Goering protege, and one of the most skilled Nazi agents. Yet the chairman of the No Foreign War Committee—Verne Marshall — has the gall to defend Davis as a great American. Davis is the backer of the No Foreign War Committee."

From the same colyum a short time later: "What happened to the proposed Congressional probe of John L. Lewis and Wm. Rhodes Davis, the international financier who did business with the Nazis?"

From the Rogge Report: "Hans Thomsen, Germany's ambassador in Washington, was in constant contact with a propagandist named Manfred Zapp."

From a 1940 Winchell colyum: "At 341 Madison Avenue, New York City, is located the luxurious offices of a so-called news service. The person in charge is Dr. Manfred Zapp, one of Herr Goebbels' most trusted agents. His job is to spread the Nazi viewpoint among German language rags in the U. S. He and his staff are equipped with their own short-wave station to contact Berlin."

From the Rogge Report: "Prescott Dennett was Nazi agent George Sylvester Viereck's general handyman and errand boy. Dennett got Cong. Thorkelson to insert a certain news story in the Congressional Record. Thorkelson's office ordered 5,000 reprints, which were mailed out under his frank.

From the same colyum in 1942: "We called the attention of the American people to the shameful fact that a Congressman was using his position to spread Nazi hatred and swastika propaganda by inserting the stuff in the Congressional Record and then distributing it under his frank. That Congressman went on the air to deny our charges and called us all kinds of names in Congress. . . . He is Cong. Jake Thorkelson."

Pegler — Fair Enough

NEW YORK—Under the heading "Alleged False Front Activities," Judge Walter C. Lindley, of the federal court, found that the A and P grocery chain had formed artificial organizations, in the guise of independent public groups to promote the company's interests. The grocery company argued that its own interests were the public's interests, inasmuch as it was admittedly driving down the cost of good, sanitary groceries to the consumer and was resisting state tax proposals which might have frustrated that purpose. Those who are naive enough to believe that the company put the public interest first and was pleasantly surprised to note that these movements could do A and P no harm, have my permission.

This was the anti-trust case in which the court found the defendants guilty of illegal, though laudable, operations, with the remark that to buy, sell and distribute to a substantial portion of 130 million people $1,750 million worth of food annually, at a profit of one and one-half per cent, "is an achievement one well may be proud of."

"No place in the world, I take it," Judge Lindley wrote, "are people so well fed as in the United States. Nowhere else, I suppose, do food distributors accomplish efficient distribution at so low a margin of profit."

But, the court was constrained to hold in the end, they can't do that for us and, with rather plain indications that this hurt him more than it hurt them, the judge took the culprits to the woodshed.

It was clever but stupid of the A and P to deceive citizens by masking its parentage of these propaganda fronts, such as the one called the emergency tax council of New Jersey, which campaigned against special taxes on supermarkets, and, if my opinion is demanded, it was dishonest as well.

Here we have a court frowning on this sort of pressure in the case of a beneficent grocery company, but, in the index of the Dies committee, we have lists of hundreds of false front organizations, many of them ephemeral, which were set up with the stated purpose of fighting for truth, justice, freedom and other pearly monuments which have become grisly platitudes from their very own ill use.

We have not only councils but committees, congresses and institutes, forums, leagues, foundations and schools, societies, brotherhoods and guilds using every conceivable combination and variation of such bait as "human rights," "freedom," "liberties" and "defense." Most of these on the Dies committee lists are, or were, political traps either organized by the Communists or, at their suggestion, by sneaks in more or less decent guise. The purpose of most of them, if not all, was to wreak the wreck of that American economy of which Judge Lindley could write that it fed our people better than any other people on earth were fed.

There are Americans now so skeptical and confused that they would not join a pants-pressing club or a league of nature lovers and it would leave me cold to be informed that the Audubon society was encountering resistance among a wary nation once noted for its joinery and proud of its lodge buttons.

It comes now to this: A false front promoted by a taxpaying corporation to support a legitimate interest of citizens is sinful by law, but a thousand fakes operating against the peace and thrift of the nation, operating indeed to the hunger and want of the same people, are praiseworthy and entitled to special grace.

Othman — On Anything

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Preston Tucker's attempts to rent a factory from his Uncle Samuel to build a Martian motor car is only one indication that the millenium is banging an atomic fist on our doors.

Even now there is on sale the electrified hairbrush ($15) with 20,000 brisk, little fingers to massage our scalps; the non-skid satin coverlet with built-in furnace to keep us warm, and the mechanical razor to brush off our whiskers as with a feather from a goose.

The manufacturer of this razor says simply that it is revolutionary; it shaves. That I have got to see. Whether I ever get to ride in the plutonic coupe of Prof. Tucker seems problematical at the moment. He has landlord trouble. He's got it bad.

Tucker thought he'd rented from the government the biggest factory in the world (in Chicago, naturally) to make sedans whose gears never grind because they haven't any. Came then Housing Administrator Wyatt to say he couldn't have this greatest of all assembly plants (one building alone covers 83 acres) because the Lustron Corp., needed it to build houses of enameled steel, like bathtubs inside and out.

* * *

THE RECONSTRUCTION Finance Corp., said it wouldn't lend the Lustron people 50-odd millions to get started. Everything's flubdub now and it looks like President Truman has still another problem waiting his return from the Missouri voting booth. In the course of my following the auto makers around, I have learned something about their vehicle. Boy!

Only resemblance between the Tucker car and any now on the streets is the fact that it has four wheels.

The back end of this buggy has an engine tucked inside: this engine runs a pump. The pump forces a fluid through pipes to turbines, which I understand are like fancy water wheels, on each of the rear wheels.

Step on the gas, the goo flows through the pipes under pressure, and away you go. An enthusiast says the sensation is something like having your car pushed by a silent angel. I think I'd like that.

If the Lustron people get the nod and begin making houses, the future still sounds angelic. In a stationary way. An enamel steel house, like a wash basin, never needs paint. Termites? They'd break their teeth.

SOME OF THE OTHER purveyors of trick houses don't seem to be getting any place. Andy Higgins still is trying for a government loan to make bungalows of solidified foam encased in metal pants. Buckminstor Fuller, who intended to build round aluminum houses on masts for foundations in a Kansas airplane factory, is having money trouble, too.

Ah, well. We've already got electric irons that make their own steam for pressing pants, pants that don't need pressing, glass-lined play suits for babies, and 14 different kind of everlasting fountain pens, most of which will fry eggs under water.

We also have a maker of a fountain pen, who advertises that his product is amazing. All it does is write on paper! (His exclamation point.) When it goes dry, he adds, you fill it up with plain, old ink. Incredible. Dr. Watson.

VA ASKS VETS FOR REPORT OF G.I. EARNINGS

Accounting Must Be Made for Past 3-Month Period Before Nov. 5.

All veterans enrolled in educational or on-the-job training courses under the G. I. Bill must submit reports of their earnings for August, September and October to the Veterans Administration before November 5, W. L. Chetister, vocational and rehabilitation chief in the VA regional office, Cleveland, emphasized today.

Statements of earnings for the period may be filed by Mansfield area veterans with the VA training office or sent to the VA subregional office in the Walpark building, Mansfield, G. D. Weidemaier, director of the Mansfield subregional VA office said. Veterans are cautioned that further subsistence checks will be withheld until this notice is received, Weidemaier said, so they should be sure to meet the Nov. 5 deadline.

Reports are required of all veterans whether they are earning money while going to school under the bill or earning wages in apprentice or on-the-job training. Amounts to be reported include wages, salaries, commissions, bonus payments or other income received as a result of the veteran's employment or self employment. The requirement does not pertain to disabled veterans who are in training under Public Law 16.

Veterans are warned that under the changes in the G. I. Bill limiting the maximum of combined subsistence allowance and outside earnings to $175 monthly without dependents and $200 monthly with one or more dependents, some money may have to be returned if the maximum has been exceeded since the legislation was amended.

Veterans will be notified if they need to refund any money, and the VA will arrange for the collection of excess payments over a period of time, so as to avoid imposing a hardship on veterans, it was said.

Copies of the reporting form, for those who do not receive them with their subsistence check, are available in the VA sub-regional office, Weidemaier said.

73 HANDICAPPED PLACED IN JOBS

Placements of 73 physically handicapped veterans in on the-job-training or in educational institutions for October marks a new high in the Mansfield area, G. D. Weidemaier, manager of the Mansfield sub-regional office, Veterans Administration said today.

"We placed 58 disabled veterans in on-the-job training and 15 in educational institutions, mostly colleges," Weidemaier reported. "There still are about 30 men to be placed.

"This progress indicates clearly to me that Mansfield concerns are living up to the pledge made by their personnel managers to do everything possible to implement the slogan 'hire the handicapped—it's good business.' This slogan was featured during National Employ the Physically Handicapped week in September.

"We will need to keep this pace," Weidemaier continued "as the men who are now coming out of the hospitals will probably have a greater degree of disability so that this problem will continue to be paramount."

NAVY ACCEPTS ARMORY PLAN

The navy today agreed to build its proposed $300,000 armory as far north of the present State Guard armory as possible so as not to limit the guard's activities on its Ashland road site, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said.

The navy wants to build the armory on city property near the guard armory, but city councilmen said they would permit the armory to be built only if it did not interfere with guard functions.

Mayor Vaughn said he received a letter from naval officials today stating that the navy will comply with council's request and will not erect any fences on the property "except if needed during a national emergency."

Next move is up to council in offering to lease to the navy land for the 100-by-200-foot armory. It will be used to train a 200-man naval reserve division.

Cupid's Busy, But Marriages Show Decline

Although the number of marriage licenses declined in October as compared with September, Dan Cupid still held his lead in the race with the divorce court in Richland county.

Licenses issued by probate court totaled 81 last month, 14 fewer than in September, but nearly double the 43 petitions for divorce or alimony filed with the common pleas court.

Despite the decline in marriage licenses Richland county continued its trend toward a banner year in the founding of new homes. Marriages so far this year total 876 as compared with only 534 to the same date in 1945.

The all-time high for any one month in marriage licenses granted was 117 in June, the traditional month of weddings. August, with 107, September with 95, and last January, with 94, were other high months.

Divorces have been declining steadily since the first of the year. Last December's 85 petitions in common pleas court was the all-time high while October's 43 is the fewest in any one month so far in 1946.

In October of 1945 there were 63 marriage licenses granted and 59 divorce, annulment or alimony petitions filed.

STUDY GARBAGE RATE REVISION

City councilmen today were studying the second revision of a garbage-rubbish collection ordinance which provides for no boost in the $7.20-a-year garbage collection fee but sets up a $6 rubbish collection charge.

A previously proposed ordinance included a boost to $8 for the garbage fee and the $6 rubbish fee. The newest revision also provides that persons heating their homes with gas shall be charged only $3-a-year for rubbish collection service.

The new ordinance requires payments six months in advance. Persons must subscribe to the garbage service before they will be eligible for rubbish service. The city currently makes no charge for rubbish collection.

Council is mapping the new ordinance with the idea of putting it into effect early next year.

Firm Making Bed Warmer

The new product is of double-bed size, with warmth automatically regulated by a thermostat which keeps the comforter at a constant temperature, regardless of the changing temperature of the room.

It is designed to retain more warmth than other types of electric bed coverings, although it uses only a 150-watt heating element stitched to the inside warming sheet, Sorenson said.

The rayon satin covering may be dry-cleaned, while the inside warming sheet may be washed the same as an ordinary woolen blanket.

Engineering tests at Westinghouse have included the flexing of the comforter's special alloy heating element wire more than 600,000 times without a single sign of failure—more than 30 times the Underwriters' Laboratories' requirements, Sorenson said.

Fate of 11 Tax Levies, 1 Bond Issue To Be Decided Tuesday

Eleven special tax levies and one bond issue, most of them for the benefit of school districts in Richland county, will be approved or rejected by voters in Mansfield, Shelby and eight other communities at the election Tuesday.

At stake in Mansfield will be the proposed two-tenths of a mill tax levy, for five years, to finance a supervised recreation program, and a three-mill five-year levy to provide additional revenue with which to raise the salaries of teachers and other employes of the city schools.

Shelby voters will approve or reject a $600,000 bond issue to finance the construction of two new schools and improve the high school and its athletic field. In addition, Shelby will vote on a two-mill, four-year tax levy which would provide teacher salary boosts.

Butler's residents will vote on renewal of a three-mill levy, for three years, which has provided revenue for the past nine years to pay costs of lighting the village streets.

The nine other levies are for the benefit of school districts, most of them for the purpose of increasing teacher salaries. In Shiloh, Lucas and Lexington new levies of five mills, two mills and three mills, respectively are proposed.

Bellville schools will benefit from the passage of a three-mill, three-year tax levy which is currently in effect. Madison voters likewise are being asked to renew a three-mill levy to finance school operations.

In two school districts, Mifflin and Union, voters are being asked to renew two-mill levies and, in addition, to increase the tax duplicate by another two mills in order to finance current operations.

The Shelby bond issue requires a 65 per cent majority vote for passage, as does Mansfield's recreation levy. Remainder of the levies require only a simple majority vote, or slightly more than 50 per cent of the total votes cast.

Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, reviewed Elizabeth M. Bauer's religious novel "Behold Thy King" for members of the association today.

Rev. C. A. Portz, president, presided during the meeting and the opening devotions were conducted by Rev. James L. Davey pastor of the Grace Gospel church.

For the December meeting Dr J. Campbell White, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, will present a paper on "Christian Church Unity."

NIGHT DUTY—

The housing shortage prevented a possible burglary at the Colby and Earick garage early Sunday, officials of the company said today. Bill Perry, an employe of the concern, who has been unable to find a room, was sleeping in an automobile in the garage Saturday night when he was awakened by the sound of breaking glass. Investigation disclosed a prowler had broken a window glass in a door, but fled when Perry was aroused from his slumbers.

ASHLAND PLANT HIT BY BLAZE

ASHLAND — Fire believed to have started on or near the roof of a paint room at the Eagle Rubber company here Sunday at 4:30 p. m. was brought under control within a half hour by Ashland firemen despite its rapid spread when the blaze reached the ventilating system.

Five lines of hose were played on the blazing roof and through the interior of the brick structure, with firemen wearing masks to protect themselves from the paint fumes, according to Fire Chief Paul Soles.

With the plant closed down and no one in the building except a watchman who was at another location on the plant grounds, the blaze had gained considerable headway when a passerby notified firemen. Paint which had gathered in the ventilators fed the flames and carried them down inside the structure.

Loss, not yet estimated, will not be large because the flames did not reach sections of the plant where machinery and stock is located, according to a plant spokesman. The loss is covered by insurance, it was learned.

Operations at the company, which manufactures rubber toys and sundries, were to be resumed this morning.

SIMPSON PUPILS GIVEN 800 BIBLES

The Richland County Gideons continued the distribution of New Testaments in the rural and city schools today by giving out 800 Bibles to John Simpson Junior high school pupils in a special assembly at 8:30 a. m. in the school auditorium.

The service was opened with a prayer by John Morrison of the Gideon association, followed by the introduction of Ray Bush by Harry J. Dotson, school principal. Bush made the presentation speech.

The distribution increased the number of Bibles given out by the Gideons to 1,500. The distribution is made as part of the national Gideon program to present Bibles to all public school children from the fifth grade through high school. Approximately 5,000 copies will be needed to complete the program in Richland county.

TWO EXPRESS OPPOSITION TO PROPOSAL

Dr. Beatty's Suggestion For Larger TB Hospital Fails of Support.

County commissioners again today expressed opposition to establishing a tri-county (Richland, Ashland, Crawford) tuberculosis sanatorium, as proposed by Dr. Oren A. Beatty, medical director of Richland county's TB hospital.

Dr. Beatty announced he strongly favored an institution larger than Richland county's proposed $300,000 sanatorium because of increased efficiencies and greater service inherent in a large hospital.

Said Commissioner John W. Selby:

"What would we do, scrap all we've done so far? We would waste the money we've already expended, create further delays and put control of the hospital into the hands of a board of trustees who usually are not so responsive to the public will as elected officials.

"In any event, if we want a larger hospital later we can always have it since the plans for our new county building have been made to allow for expansion."

Urges Long Study.

Commissioner Guy F. Stewart said he too would not vote for a tri-county sanatorium until a "great amount of study and consideration" had been given the proposal.

"It would mean more delay and we've had too much of that already. Besides, the people by their vote last fall authorized us to build a county hospital, not a tri-county building. That could even result in a taxpayers' suit against us if we used the money otherwise. And there's always the problem of inter-county friction; somebody would be sure to claim they weren't getting their share of control and benefits." Stewart said.

Shoup Unavailable.

Commissioner C. L. Shoup was not available for comment today but has already gone on record as opposing the tri-county idea because it would take control out of the hands of elected officials—the commissioners themselves.

While the Richland commissioners appeared to be immovable in their opposition to the proposal, further support was gained from the Ashland County Medical society which has endorsed the tri-county idea and urged Ashland county commissioners to place a bond issue on the ballot for voter approval.

CPA APPROVES TWO PROJECTS

The Cleveland district office of the Civilian Production administration last week approved two building projects in Mansfield, valued at $15,500, on the grounds of severe individual or community hardship, Glenn W. Thompson, CPA district manager, announced today.

A $14,000 permit for construction of a retail store at 20 South Park avenue was issued to Willis C. Wappner, 166 Marion avenue. The proposed construction will replace a building on the site destroyed by fire in January, 1945.

Fred Holdsworth, member of the board of trustees of the Gospel Hall, Kentucky avenue, Lincoln Heights, received a permit to construct a $1,500 temporary Sunday school building at the Lincoln Heights location.

The CPA approved a total of 39 non-housing building projects valued at $1,442,000 during the last week. Disallowance of 21 cases, which would have accounted for estimated expenditures of $140,000, was reported.

Rifle Goes Off, Johnsville Boy Shot In Cheek

GALION—David Livingston, 10, of near Johnsville, is in Galion City hospital suffering from injuries received when a rifle with which he was playing went off and shot him in the left check.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Livingston, had been told not to play with the gun because, his father said, there were no cartridges. David and a small neighbor boy found some ammunition at the neighbor's home, but when they attempted to get it into the gun, the rifle went off, hitting the boy in the check, the father said.

The bullet passed through the left side of the boy's face and came out in the back of his neck, according to hospital authorities.

Tetanus shots were given at the hospital. This morning, X-rays were taken. He was reported in fair condition today.

OWENS NAMED IN MURDER COUNT

Police Chief Meade K. Bates today filed a second degree murder charge against John Q. Owens, 257½ North Main street, in the death of Alonzo B. Lindsey, 25, of 266½ North Main street.

Lindsey died early Saturday of a bullet wound through the heart in a shooting affray off North Main street.

Chief Bates said he conferred with County Prosecutor Theodore Lutz before filing the charge. He said Lutz "couldn't see grounds" for a first degree murder charge.

New evidence which reportedly showed that Lindsey struck Owens before he was shot was reported by Chief Bates. He said the dispute evidently began some time before the fatal shooting.

TYGERS DRIVE FOR HOMECOMING

SPORTS ROUND UP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK —(AP)— Before long the 13-man executive committee of the U. S. Golf association will buckle down to the task of picking the 1947 Walker cup team and meantime a lot of good amateur golfers must be wondering about their chances . . . the basis of selection is golfing ability plus the ability "to be a good representative of the country," and with that much latitude the committee has grounds for including or omitting almost anyone . . . But Ward, for instance, wasn't among the last eight in the national amateur, and neither was Muscles Stranahan, yet their all-season records were fine. But Fred Kammer, semi-finalist at Baltusrol, was just a week-end golfer the rest of the year.

ANYWAY, THEY'RE FIGHTING

MONDAY MATINEE

The UCCLA Bruins claim the only broken nose passing combination in current college football. Quarterback Ernie Case and End Burr Baldwin both have busted beaks . . . Cornell U., which expects to have a good basketball team, has increased the seating capacity of its gym to 8,1000, almost double the former total . . . The Los Angeles Rams hope to draw more than 80,000 fans for their game with the Bears next Sunday, busting the Cleveland Browns' record—"and without any 25-cent tickets."

Rams Booster Club Discusses Banquet

Mansfield Madison's booster club will meet tomorrow night at the Madison high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock, William Erdenberger, secretary announced today.

Definite plans for the football banquet, tentatively set for Monday, November 11, will be made at this meeting.

Coach Jeff DeHaven is going to discuss the Rams final 1946 game with Millersburg, Saturday night on the Rams gridiron at 8 o'clock.

Erdenberger requested that all boosters and alumni attend this meeting which is open to the public.

Akron Bears Defeat Newark Bombers, 28-14

AKRON —(INS)— The Akron Bears were in undisputed possession of first place in the American pro football league's Western division today by virtue of their 28-14 victory over the Newark Bombers yesterday in the Akron Rubber Bowl.

Nearly 7,000 fans witnessed the climax of the Bears' drive from last to first place. The win over the Bombers was their fifth straight. Floyd Wheeler paced the Akronites by cracking over for three touchdowns.

Nineteen year old Bill (Moose) Fischer, Chicago, is the baby of Notre Dame's first string linemen. But when he starts to swing his 225-pound frame around at his left guard post, no one cares to remind him of his immaturity.

State Grid Forecasts Vindicated

Mansfield Tygers, still smarting from their 32 to 7, setback at the hands of powerful Toledo Waite last Friday night, have a hard week of football tactics ahead of them for the Tygers homecoming game Friday night with Youngstown Rayen at Stadium field at 8 o'clock.

Coach Paul Snyder has indicated today that he will hold two long practice sessions the first of the week and give the squad plenty of fundamentals.

The high school announced that Betty Long has been elected queen and her attendants for the homecoming will be Betty DeLaney, Joan Freeland, Gloria Morton, and Catherine Wilging.

The judgment of sports writers whose concensus votes make up International News Service's weekly high school grid ratings was thoroughly vindicated today

The state's four top ranking teams all breezed through in convincing fashion against teams that were supposed to afford their most rigid tests of the season.

Cleveland Cathedral Latin, unbeaten now in 32 starts, snapped Collinwood's perfect record, 25 to 0 The victory for Herb Eisele's Lions assured them of a spot in Cleveland's annual charity game Nov. 23.

Toledo Waite, its record marred only by an upset loss to Libbey of its home city, retains second place after handing Mansfield its first defeat.

Third place Massillon piled a 35-to-12 shellacking on Dayton Chamberlade, registering the latter's first loss in 17 starts. Lima Central, ranked fourth last week, tallied its eighth straight win, 54 to 6, over a Dayton Oakwood eleven that had not lost previously.

The biggest upset of the week was encountered by Campbell Memorial. Unbeaten since 1944, Memorial went down before unheralded Youngstown East, 13 to 0

Otherwise, schools picked in last week's "Big Ten" were hands-down winners. Youngstown Woodrow Wilson thumped Hardy Ursuline, 34 to 7. Canton McKinley rolled past Alliance, 34 to 0. Steubenville Catholic's margin over Wheeling, W. Va., Central was 32-7.

Stranahan Takes Mexican National

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Frank R. Stranahan, 25-year-old Toledo golfer whose sensational play has put him among the 10 top ranking U S. Amateurs, added another star to his crown with a 3 and 2 victory yesterday over Earl R. Stewart of Houston, Tex., in the Mexican National amateur open golf championship.

Stranahan added the Mexican open title to the Western, Great Lakes, Kansas City and Fort Worth, Tex., open championships he won this season. He sailed into the semi-finals with an easy 6 and 4 victory over Nacho Diaz of Mexico City and then went to the finals winning a tough match from Smiley Quick of Los Angeles.

Last Period Drive Keeps B-W In Lead

By DON STULL

The Lords of Kenyon were back on the victory trail today, but two other Ohio college football elevens —Denison and Wilmington—still were looking for that first win of the season.

Kenyon ended a 13-game losing streak over the week-end, upsetting Ashland College 20 to 13, for the Lord's first triumph since the season of 1943. They had lost their first three this year.

Denison and Wilmington, however, went down to their fifth straight defeats of the year Saturday.

Denison almost made it, though, being out in front until the final two minutes. A 29-yard touchdown pass and conversion gave the Muskies a 14-13 triumph.

Wilmington didn't even come close. The Ohioans held Franklin, Ind., to one touchdown in the first half, but the Franklins pushed over three more in the last two periods to thump the Ohioans, 25 to 0.

At the other end of the Buckeye pigskin ladder, Baldwin-Wallace's Yellow Jackets rallied for three touchdowns in the final quarter to beat out Case, 28 to 13, and remain the only undefeated team in the state. The Yellow Jackets have won four and tied two.

Ohio State upset Northwestern, 39 to 27, nudging the Wildcats out of the Western conference leadership and moving themselves into a contending position, tied for third place. Illinois leads the big nine with four wins and one loss. Michigan is next with three wins, a tie and a loss, while Ohio and Northwestern have identical 3-1-1 records.

Miami's high-flying Redskins knocked Bradley of Peoria, Ill., out of the unbeaten-unitied class, 35 to 0, at Oxford. It was the sixth in a row for Miami.

Three other Ohio schools registered triumphs over out-of-state elevens to give the Buckeye contingent a record of 38 wins, 22 losses and four ties with outsiders this season. Kent State downed Kalamazoo in Michigan, 12 to 0; Defiance edged Canterbury of Indiana, 13-6, and Youngstown turned back Scranton, Pa., 33 to 14, at Youngstown.

Wilberforce played a scoreless tie with Lincoln at Jefferson City, Mo. Finishing on the short end on foreign gridirons were Cincinnati and Cedarville. Cincy's Bearcats dropped a 20-0 decision to Tulsa at Tulsa, Okla, and Cedarville got thumped, 21 to 0, by Ferris Institute at Big Rapids, Mich.

In the only Sunday game of the week-end in Ohio, Dayton University Flyers overpowered Xavier at Cincinnati with an aerial attack that brought three second half touchdowns. The Flyers won 33-6.

In contests in Ohio Saturday, Ohio University bounced back from two straight defeats to overwhelm Ohio Wesleyan, 49 to 7; Otterbein won its fifth straight against one defeat, routing Capital 50-6; Mount Union edged Wooster, 7 to 5, a third period touchdown overcoming Wooster's earlier field goal and safety; Heidelberg thumped Ohio Northern, 20 to 7; Bowling Green dumped Oberlin 14-0, Rio Grande won its fourth in a row, humbling Hiram 20-6; Toledo tallied twice in the final period to beat John Carroll 28-19, and Akron upset Western Reserve 13-6.

Church Cage Loop Meets At YMCA

Senior and junior church basketball leagues will hold a meeting tonight at the YMCA at 7:30 o'clock, John Fike, athletic instructor announced.

Plans to be discussed are rules and referee will be selected at this meeting. A deadline will be set for entry into the church loop.

Fike said that he would like to have four more teams sign for the junior league.

Tuesday nights have been set for the senior basketball league and the junior loop will meet on Saturday afternoons.

Robinson, Levine Take Final Workouts Today

CLEVELAND—(INS)—Ray "Sugar" Robinson and Artie Levine were to take their final ring workouts today in preparation for their scheduled 10-round bout Wednesday night in the Cleveland arena.

The uncrowned king of the welterweights arrived in Cleveland last night from Detroit and said his knockout there of Cecil Hudson Friday night "tightened" him up perfectly for his fight with the middleweight.

Paul Bixler's Bucks Can Win Conference

CHICAGO—(AP)—Paul Orlando Bixler, the coach who was "kicked upstairs" at Ohio State, may become the third Buckeye mentor in five seasons to pilot a Western conference football champion.

His chameleon-like Buckeyes, who pummeled previously undefeated Northwestern, 39-27, Saturday, today headed for a showdown with Illinois, the current pace-setter, and runner-up Michigan in one of the hottest stretch drives ever produced by the Big Nine.

Those three teams, plus Northwestern whose surprising thumping by Bixler's Scarlet and Grey Hustlers dumped the Wildcats into a third-place tie with the Buckeyes, all can clinch or share the championship with only two rounds remainings.

The Illini, squeezing past Iowa, 7-0, were pushed to the top of the conference heap subsequent to Northwestern's downfall, while Michigan moved into the runner-up spot with an entirely expected 21-0 trimming of last-place Minnesota.

Wisconsin achieved a .500 ranking along with Indiana and Iowa by edging Purdue, 24-20, while Indiana defeated Pittsburgh, 20-6, in a non-league test.

If, and it is a big if, the Buckeyes can hurdle Illinois at Champaign on Nov. 16 and Michigan at Columbus on Nov. 23, Bixler can claim the conference championship in whole or in part, depending how Northwestern fares in its final league games with Indiana and Illinois.

A title achievement would enable 39-year-old Bixler to match the championship performance of Paul Brown at Ohio State in 1942 and the 1944 conquest by Carroll Widdoes, the man who stepped down in favor of Bixler this season in a unique job swap with his former assistant.

Certainly the Buckeyes, who had dropped a 20-7 decision to Wisconsin and were held to a 14-4 deadlock by Purdue, appeared the class of the league last Saturday as they ripped Northwestern's line to shreds for six touchdowns. That happened only two weeks after the Wildcats handcuffed Michigan in a 14-14 tie.

DONS' FIELD GOAL NIPS BROWNS, 17-16

(By United Press)

The Cleveland Browns, first-place team in the All-America conference, and Miami, the tail-ender, had one thing in common today—a complaint that yesterday's games were a half-minute too long.

The New York Yankees defeated Miami, 24 to 21, on Ace Parker's touchdown pass with 26 seconds to go. The Los Angeles Dons nipped the Browns, 17 to 16, on Joe Aguirre's field goal with 20 seconds to play. The games, the only ones played Sunday, caused no change in standings, except that New York strengthened its grip on the eastern division lead. Cleveland still leads the west.

Miami, struggling hard to improve its dismal record, scored twice in the last period, on a plunge by Don Reece and a pass from Charley Price to Monk Gafford, and appeared to have a safe lead. But New York drove from its 12-yard line to the Seahawk goal in 11 plays, most of them passes by Parker, and scored on an 11-yard heave to Jack Russell

Cleveland got off to a 16 to 7 first-half lead over the Dons, but Los Angeles came back to tally in the last period on a 30-yard drive after Tom Collella failed to get a fourth-down punt away, and then Aquirre's kick climaxed a late Los Angeles rally.

Meanwhile, magnates in the rival National Football league counted three record crowds drawn by a race which now shows Philadelphia, New York and Pittsburgh tied for the Eastern Division lead.

Washington is only a half-game off the pace in the eastern half and in the west the Chicago Bears are closely followed by the Lon Angeles Rams.

Yesterday's five games, paced by record crowds at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and the Chicago Bears, drew 172,773 fans, about 3,000 under the all-time record, and it appeared that a new mark would be set next Sunday, when the Eagles play at New York, the Bears at Los Angeles, Boston at Washington, Green Bay at the Cardinals and Pittsburgh at Detroit.

The Eagles moved up into the tie by whipping the Giants yesterday, 24 to 14, while Pittsburgh advanced by upsetting Washington, 14 to 7. The Bears beat the Packers, 10 to 7, Los Angeles crushed Detroit, 41 to 20, and the Cards dropped Boston, 28 to 14.

Bob Waterfield, most valuable player in the league last year, had one of his great days as he passed for three touchdowns, ran for another, kicked two field goals and five conversions in the East Los Angeles victory over Detroit. He completed 15 of 29 passes for 224 yards and added other yardage running. Despite a rainstorm, 36,777 fans were in Briggs Stadium to watch the 1945 champions meet a Lion eleven which hasn't won a game this year.

October 23, 1946

TO EVERY MEMBER OF THE CIO:

This is a message of great urgency for every CIO member. We write you on the eve of the 1946 Congressional election, an election which will decide America's course and the fate of every American and his family. The fact is that if the American people are not, to be thrust back again to depression, if we are to avoid another horrible war, if our unions are to survive, a progressive 80th Congress must be elected on November 5th.

Our opponents in this campaign, the reactionaries in both the Republican and Democratic Parties, have sought to scare the American people by a smoke screen of confusion. Although they bear responsibility for whatever confusion and shortages now exist by their butchering of OPA, housing and other vital legislation in the 79th Congress, they seek to place the blame elsewhere. This is not a new story. They have used it in past elections, unsuccessfully. The people examined the charge, rejected it and then carried the fight to the enemy.

The people, the voters, will do it again on November 5th. Our weapon is the ballot. We must use it. We have seen in the past few weeks the mobilization of those forces that were Franklin D. Roosevelt's staunchest supporters. We have taken our message, the fulfillment of the Roosevelt program, peace and prosperity, to the American people. They have accepted it.

We need to implement that acceptance at the ballot box. The only way reaction will be swept aside, will be by a huge outpouring of votes. The responsibility is that of every decent American, of every decent union member to go to the polls on November 5th and vote. And to help in getting his family, neighbors and friends to also vote.

Remember, voting is the answer to our problems. Voting is the way to a better Congress.

Sincerely and fraternally,

President, CIO — Director, CIO-PAC

CHURCH RITES END SCOUT WEEK

St. Luke's Lutheran church was filled to capacity last night for the concluding ceremony of the Mansfield observance of Girl Scout week.

Girl Scouts of all ages, Brownies, Intermediate and Senior Scouts and Boy Scout guests listened attentively as Dr. Herbert S. Garnes, pastor of the church challenged them to build their lives "not on sand, but on a rock foundation," in a talk entitled, "Building for Today and Tomorrow."

The program was supervised by the Senior Girl Scouts under the direction of Mrs. Myrtle Ruff, Scout executive.

Opened with a welcoming address by Senior Scout Marjorie Hoover, the program got underway with the recitation of Girl Scout laws and promises by Pat Lehman. Response to this was the Boy Scout laws and promises led by Floyd Dent, Boy Scout executive.

From the choir loft, the Girl Scout choir, under the direction of Miss Ellena Percy, presented the following selections: "Now the Day Is Over," "Beautiful Savior," and "Cherubim Hymn No. 7."

"The Way of Understanding," in the form of a brief address, was given by Senior Scout Mary Jo Hunter, and a prayer by Senior Scout Donna Davis concluded the service.

PATIENTS STUDY HOME NURSING

A home-makers study program is under way at the Richland county TB Sanatorium where 14 patients meet twice weekly to study home nursing, according to Miss Margaret Reid secretary of the tri-county Tuberculosis Rehabilitation Service.

Class periods run about 40 minutes, with regular study assignments between lessons, according to Miss Reid's quarterly report, ended Oct. 31.

Former patients who have been dismissed from residence at the sanatorium and are now taking up work suitable to training and physical capacity, include four in vocational training. Of these four, one is at college studying library science, one is taking up watch repair, one piano tuning and the fourth is preparing to enter TB work.

Three more clients are continuing their high school education and one is attending business college part-time, intending to enter professional training later.

Six clients, according to the report, have been graduated from part-time employment into full-time work.

The total case load now numbers 119, of whom 47 are from Richland county, 48 from Lorain county, 20 from Erie county and four from other counties, who are or were hospitalized at the Richland County Tuberculosis sanatorium or Pleasant View sanatorium.

A plan of making regular rounds to the patients in Richland County sanatorium has been inaugurated. The rehabilitation worker will see each patient at least once a month and, if possible, once every two weeks.

Purdy Charges Ad Misleading

Wesley W. Purdy, Democratic candidate for congressman from the 17th district, in another campaign statement today, charged Republicans with giving a misleading impression in an advertisement which stated that J. Harry McGregor, incumbent, yas "author of House Resolution 4498—granting leave pay to enlisted men."

Purdy stated that the bill which eventually became law, granting leave pay to enlisted men, was HR 4051 and that the bill which McGregor has sponsored did not become a law, according to the congressional record of June 11.

Purdy also claims that when the HR 4051 did come to a vote, the congressional record of that date did not show that McGregor voted.

Hollywood Trip Reward for Sales

Mrs. Mary H. Spiess, a cosmetician at the Muir Cut Rate Drug store, 96 North Main street, was in Hollywood Calif., today on a week's tour of the movie capital at the expense of the company as a result of her outstanding work in the sale of cosmetics.

Boyce K. Muir, president of the company, said Mrs. Spiess won the week's tour in competition with cosmeticians from 33 other Muir stores located in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin.

Mrs. Spiess left Mansfield Monday for Chicago, where she was joined by four other winners from Muir stores in Michigan and Indiana.

She joined the Mansfield store in October, 1943. She previously had been awarded expense-paid trips to New Orleans and New York, and a cruise of the Great Lakes for winning sales contests, Muir said.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 11
Armistice Day
Now, in the days of our second modern era of peace, may those deprived of renewed associations take comfort in knowing that personalities cannot be separated from the life of a community of which they were, are, and will forever be a part. The influence of the lives of heroes never terminates.
Shortly before he died at sea, Nile Kinnick, an all-American football star of Iowa University, wrote to a friend:
"Let us hope that you and I and many, many others like us, will be enabled some day, somewhere, somehow, to contribute in some small way to the peace and progress of this world. There is nothing wrong with dreams provided foundations are put under them. Thumbs up!"
Thus, he referred to the American principles of individual freedom and equality of action. By "building foundations under dreams" our forebears fashioned this magnificent new world in the amazingly short time of 170 years (1776-1946).
May Americans always understand that our vast national wealth is worthless without the self-maintenance of our rights as individuals to keep on building foundations under dreams.

This explains why there is a shortage of teachers; why present teachers are leaving for better paid jobs; and why fewer men and women are taking up teaching as a career. With Mansfield's school population growing steadily, it will become increasingly difficult to obtain enough properly trained teachers, unless this condition is remedied. A solution to this problem is offered in the 3 MILL LEVY on the Nov. 5 ballot. Scientists Propose New Expedition To Pin Down North Magnetic Pole's Whereabouts

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Scientists in navigation proposed today that a new, well-organized surface and air expedition be made to the top of the world to ascertain the exact location of the north magnetic pole.

This pole, originally believed to be some 1,200 miles from the north geographic pole, has shifted — or else the earlier computations were all wrong.

It is necessary, the scientists say, to determine the location of the magnetic pole if airplane pilots flying the polar regions are to navigate with any degree of accuracy. If not, they may find themselves going west when they expected to be traveling east.

One of these experts in navigation is Wing Commander Kenneth McClure, who was a member of the crew of the British Lancaster plane "Aries" which flew over the polar region in 1945 and first discovered that the magnetic pole had "shifted."

Since that flight, U. S. army fliers and a joint navy-army surface operation also have found that the magnetic pole is not where astronomers had placed it on navigational charts. This causes uncharted variations which play havoc with an aerial navigator using a magnetic compass.

McClure, who recently was awarded the Institute of Navigation's Thomas L. Thurlow award for outstanding contribution to the science of navigation, said it may be that the magnetic pole constantly shifts its position.

Aerial flights by high-speed planes such as the "Aries" of the army's "Dreamboat" will not be the answer. The new calculations, he said, must be made by a ground expedition, aided by lighter-than-air craft which would hover over the area to be surveyed.

Another navigational expert, Gordon Atwater, president of the institute, speculated that the magnetic field may shift at different altitudes over its ground location. He pointed out that the variation reported by both the "Aries" and the "Dreamboat" was calculated at altitudes of about 10,000 feet.

"The only way to determine the exact location is to go up there both by surface and in lighter-than-aircraft, and make a scientific investigation," he said.

These polar regions the navigators are talking about may be the air lanes of the future for long range flights. That's why they are so interested in pinning down the magnetic pole. Atwater has even gone so far as to suggest permanent installation of balloons and dirigibles atop the world to serve as "lighthouses in the air" for planes flying in the polar regions.

WAGE DEMAND REPLY AWAITED

Members of Local 17, United Rubber Workers (CIO), awaited today a reply from the Mansfield Tire & Rubber company on a request for a 26 cents an hour cost of living wage increase.

Desmond Walker, president of the local, said company officials had set no date for negotiations. Such a meeting was requested by the workers in a written notice Saturday to company officials.

Approximately 2,400 factory and office employes of Mansfield Tire and Rubber company asked for a 26 cents an hour wage increase Saturday to meet the increased cost of living. The union, which represents most of the workers, is asking that the increase become effective Nov. 1. The workers were granted a 18½ cents an hour increase by the company last March.

Walker also called attention to an error in Saturday's News-Journal account of the wage increase request. The article should have stated the tire industry as a whole, and not the local company, was producing 2,000,000 more tires a month now than during the peak pre-war years.

Walker added that the industry's exportation figure of tires in June was almost 500 per cent above the average monthly export of tires during the years, 1936-1938. Walker said that the industry exported $5,500,000 worth of tires in June as compared with an average monthly export of $954,000 on tires in pre-war years.

16-POINT SCHOOL PROGRAM URGED

COLUMBUS —(AP)— A 16-point program to strengthen state control over the millions spent on Ohio's schools has been recommended by a private research agency which contended that $5,000,000 annually could be saved.

"Even though large sums of money are appropriated annually for the support of the public school system," said the agency, the Ohio Public Expenditure Council in a 78-page report, "the legislature has placed a very limited amount of control in the (state) department of education.

"Even this control is handicapped by the home rule complex, complicated by the maze of local school districts, and impeded by frequent changes in legislative procedure.

"It customarily follows that the further removed the source of revenues the less the urge for economy in public spending. Consequently a centralized administrative body armed with adequate regulatory powers becomes an essential precaution."

Neither Dr. Clyde Hissong, state director of education, nor his assistant, R. M. Eyman, was available for comment on the report.

Noting that only 1.22 per cent of the education department's total expenses for the 1941-1946 period went for department administration, the report declared:

"No other department of the state government is required by law to assume so much financial responsibility with such a limited amount of money for administrative purposes."

In the five-year period the report said, the state spent $297,035,964 on the public school system.

ISAAC ZEHNER, 69, STRICKEN SUNDAY

Isaac Zehner, 69, died at his residence 205 Home avenue, Sunday noon following a five-year illness.

Mr. Zehner was born in Mifflin Sept. 13, 1877, and came to Mansfield 44 years ago. He was an employe of the Pennsylvania railroad for 25 years, retiring in 1919 to engage in the carpentry and building trade. Ill health forced him to retire five years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Clara Smith Zehner, two sons, Lawrence R. and Clarence and a granddaughter, Miss Jacqueline Zehner, all of Mansfield.

Services will be held in the Wappner funeral home Wednesday at 2 p. m. conducted by Rev. W. J. Shawk, pastor of the South Main Evangelical church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

The very first dose of Cystex (a physician's prescription) usually goes right to work helping the Kidneys flush out excess acids and wastes which may have caused your trouble. To prove what Cystex may do to bring you joyous help from the pains and distress due to above mentioned Kidney and Bladder troubles, get Cystex from your druggist and give it a fair trial exactly according to the simple directions. Unless completely satisfied and delighted with your rapid improvement, your money back is guaranteed. So don't suffer another day without trying Cystex. —Adv.

SEVEN YEARS ago, Dr. Edwin Lincoln Moseley, 95-pound professor emeritus of biology at Bowling Green State university in Bowling Green, O., predicted the drouth which is seriously affecting a large part of the midwest. Moseley believes dry period will extend from early last summer until the fall of 1947. (International).

Rebels Win 71-60 In Cage Opener

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The Cleveland Rebels, in their debut with the Basketball Association of America, found avid support among the city's sports fans and responded with an easy 71 to 60 triumph over Toronto's Huskies.

Frankie Baumholtz, former Ohio University and Great Lakes Naval training station ace, paced the Rebels in their opener before 7,594 spectators by scoring 10 field goals and sinking five free shots for a total of 25 points.

Runner-up was Toronto's George Nostrand, formerly of High Point, N. C. college, and Wyoming universities, with 17. The loss was the Canadian's second in a row.

AUXILIARY TO MEET

SHELBY — The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary will hold their regular meeting Tuesday evening at 8:00 p. m. at the Knights of Columbus hall. The Guards are urged to be present.

Baron-Bison 2-2 Deadlock Costs Ground

The Eastern division lead in the American Hockey league was shared by the Hershey Bears and the New Haven Ramblers today while the Indianapolis Capitals enjoyed a comfortable three-point margin in the Western division. All three teams have 15 points.

Hershey dropped into the eastern tie last night by deadlocking with the St. Louis Flyers, 3-3, and only a third period rally that erased a 3-1 deficit kept them from falling to second place.

New Haven breezed through the Philadelphia Rockets, 5 to 3, the Philadelphians' ninth loss in 10 games.

Indianapolis topped the Pittsburgh Hornets, 3 to 1.

TThe Providence Reds moved into a third place tie with the Springfield Indians in the Eastern division by beating them, 2 to 1.

The Cleveland Barons, second-placers in the Western division, lost ground to the Capitals by tying the Buffalo Bisons, 2-2.

The Army Ground Forces offers you a new life OUT THERE

Men of the Army Ground Forces' 11th Airborne Division tour Japan's noted "Isles of Pines"

Look toward Korea and Japan! A thrilling new job and a new life—with interesting work, sports, entertainment and travel opportunities—can be had for the asking by qualified young men who volunteer for one of the famed Far Eastern units listed at right.

What an opportunity . . . what a job! Choose one of these great divisions, then set your sights for an experience that will be valuable to you all your life. Training in one of these crack units will stand you in good stead wherever you go. Study a foreign language. Learn the fascinating details of Military Government—so vital to future peace and world prosperity.

Japan's "Isles of Pines" are but a sample of the attractions of an Army career in the Far East. The Army has reopened comfortable hotels, theaters, swimming pools, tennis clubs, golf courses, ball parks. These—familiar haunts of pre-war tourists—and many new developments—provide a broader choice of recreation for Army men than is enjoyed by the average civilian at home.

Not everyone can measure up to this job. Only 3-year enlistees who meet prescribed physical and mental standards can enjoy the benefits of such a job. High overseas pay, excellent medical and dental care, good food and lodging and a generous retirement plan make your future in the Army Ground Forces too good to miss! See your nearest Army Recruiting Officer for full details.

PETER'S QUEER FIND

What Peter means is that one has to be curious about things in order to learn. Without curiosity, the right kind of curiosity, there would be little knowledge. The trouble with curiosity is that all too often it is the wrong kind.

"Where are you going?" demanded Mrs. Peter as Peter started to leave the dear Old Briar-patch.

"Just over to the Old Pasture," replied Peter, trying to speak as if it were a matter of no importance.

"What for?" asked Mrs. Peter suspiciously.

"Oh, just to look around," said Peter.

"What for?" repeated Mrs. Peter.

"I've been sort of wondering what Blacky the Crow was doing over there a little while ago," admitted Peter.

"Whatever he was doing it doesn't concern you. Will you never learn to mind your own business and leave others to mind theirs? You may meet Reddy Fox over there," snapped Mrs. Peter.

"I've met him before, but he hasn't caught me yet," retorted Peter. He was beginning to lose patience himself.

"That doesn't prove that he won't catch you next time," said Mrs. Peter darkly.

Peter went just the same. When he reached the Old Pasture he was extra watchful, extra careful. He knew that if Reddy Fox had returned from hunting he was likely to be taking a nap and he knew just where. You see, Peter knows the Old Pasture almost as well as he does the dear Old Briar-patch. So he was careful to keep away from such places as he knew Reddy made use of. He moved quietly. He did a lot of looking and listening. All the time he was making his way toward a certain place above which he had seen Blacky the Crow hover; that is, try to hold himself in one place up in the air. He had seemed to Peter to drop something there, then had gone down after it, or else he had been watching something there and had gone down to look at it better. He had done this several times before flying away. Peter had watched from the dear Old Briar-patch. Of course from that distance he couldn't see what Blacky was about. He would disappear among the bushes.

"It was right about here," thought Peter, poking his head out from under a bush. He was very careful not to go wholly out in the open until he had made sure that no hungry eyes were watching. One can never be too careful anywhere, but especially in places one seldom visits.

Out in front of Peter was bare rock where a ledge came just above the ground. Perhaps at some time long ago it had been covered thinly with earth. If so, this had been washed away, leaving bare rock, with here and there little patches of those queer little flat, grayish-green plants called lichens.

Peter hesitated to go out from the shelter of the bushes because it was so very open out there. The very thought of so exposing himself to possible watchful eyes made him feel uneasy. So for a while he remained with no more than his head outside the bushes while he looked and looked. He hadn't the least idea what he was looking for, but he was sure he would know if he saw it. Sometimes it is fun, even exciting, to look for something without knowing just what.

Finally Peter ventured out on that bare rock. On the farther side he saw something that glistened and gleamed in the sun. He hurried over to it. It was the pearly inside of a piece of shell. Then he saw other pieces and a half shell unbroken. It was the shell of a Clam. How did a broken Clam shell happen to be up here in the Old Pasture so far from the Smiling Pool, Laughing Brook and the Big River where Clams live in the mud under water?

MARKET EDGES AHEAD SLOWLY

NEW YORK—(AP)—Stocks generally edged forward in today's market without the aid of cotton futures which developed a slightly lower trend in early transactions.

Brokers again attributed bidding for shares partly to Wall Street's political optimism. Many customers, however, held aloof because of tomorrow's holiday when principal exchanges will recess for the elections.

Prominent on the upside were American Water Works, North American, Public Service of N. J., Standard Gas $4 preferred, Consolidated Edison, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebucy, Anaconda, du Pont, Johns-Manville, Santa Fe and Southern railway.

Bonds were steady.

IRISH BRIDE WON'T APPEAL CONVICTION

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — (UP) — Irish war bride Bridget Waters, satisfied with a jury verdict finding her guilty of involuntary manslaughter for the slaying of her estranged American husband, spent today playing with her 16-months-old son in the garden of her hotel.

"My only regret now," the green-eyed nurse said, "is that I have to leave my baby to serve a sentence at the state prison."

Released from Clark county jail on $5000 bail shortly after the jury returned its verdict yesterday, she said she was ready to serve any sentence imposed and added she would not appeal her case.

"I am quite satisfied with the decision of the jury," she said.

District Judge A. S. Henderson, who may fine her $1000 or imprison her for 1 to 5 years, announced he would impose sentence Wednesday.

Members of the jury said they never considered finding the attractive 26-year-old Irish colleen guilty of first degree murder for the Sept. 2 killing of her husband, Frank Waters, sr. She said she shot him because she feared he would harm their baby.

Mrs. Waters took the jury's verdict calmly in contrast to her frequent courtroom outbursts during the trial. She said she would return to England with her son, Frank jr., as soon as permitted. The jury recommended that she be deported after her imprisonment—if she is confined.

She said she enjoyed sleeping in a soft hotel bed with her baby after two months in the Clark county jail where she was held since the shooting.

HARRINGTON SUIT STILL UNANSWERED

No answer to the suit filed in common pleas court by Arthur Cornell, Shelby, in an effort to gain possession of two hangars occupied by Harrington Aviation, Inc., at Mansfield municipal airport had been filed today.

A court spokesman said the Harrington interests had 30 days in which to file an answer.

The suit was filed by Cornell, brother-in-law of J. R. (Bud) Harrington, city airport manager, after the latter revealed he had been forced to resign as president and founder of the firms that bear his name. Harrington announced he wanted use of the two hangars in order to carry on his own aviation business through the Great Lakes Air Lines company, of which he is president.

NEW TILT IN ARMS MERGER FIGHT LOOMS

War Department 'Must' List Calls for Universal Military Training.

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—The war department intends to renew its legislative fight for merger of the armed services and universal military training at the next session of congress.

These two measures head the legislative program being drafted under direction of Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, chief of staff.

Indications now are that the army will not press for extension of the Selective Service act which expires March 31, 1947. Some army leaders, however, would like to see the law extended. They believe it is an incentive to voluntary enlistments.

Other war department legislation being prepared for presentation to the 80th congress includes:

A request for an additional $350,000,000 appropriation for overseas occupation.

The Inter-American Military Cooperation act to provide U. S. arms and equipment for other American nations and to set up a Pan-American defense system.

Authorization to strengthen our Pacific bases.

A measure to expedite disposal of surplus military property.

The war department's universal military training plan would require all physically fit young men to undergo six months of basic training at an army camp.

A youth then could take six more months training in a military camp, continue his military training in a college ROTC unit or enter a service academy.

The plan calls for each male to register when 17 and enter training when 18 or upon graduation from secondary school.

The army estimates it would get about 726,000 youths to train each year and the navy about 274,000.

COSTS SOAR HIGH IN BALLOT BATTLE

WASHINGTON —(INS)—Known expenditures in the hotly-contested congressional campaign reached almost four million dollars by Nov. 1 and appeared headed for a new high for off-year election contests.

Campaign reports filed with congress by 19 political groups revealed today, on the eve of tomorrow's balloting, that $3,839,441 was spent in the fight for control of the house and senate up to the closing days of the campaign.

Several million dollars more probably were spent by hundreds of state, county and city political committees, which are not required to file campaign reports with congress, as well as by individual candidates.

Democritus Hit on Atom Idea But Had No Way to Prove It

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)— Historians say that a Greek philosopher, Democritus, first conceived the idea of the atom about 500 B. C.

He suggested that matter was composed of small, solid particles.

Although speculation on the "nature of things" was a major topic in his day and for many centuries after him, his idea seems to have been ignored for about 1,500 years.

Unfortunately, Democritus and his followers lacked the scientific knowledge and the technical means for proving his theory. It is said that some philosophers held with him. But by about 300 A. D. his idea had lost favor entirely. The idea of the atom was not revived until the 19th century.

The 17th and 18th centuries saw the beginnings of modern, systematic research. Elements and compounds began to be recognized. Progress was made chiefly in the field of chemistry, and some contributions to physics was made in relation to forces and gravity.

Then, in the first decade of the 19th century, the atom cropped up again.

Dalton also said that matter was composed of small, solid particles. He called these particles "atoms," using the Greek word for "indivisible."

He suggested, furthed, that elements combine chemically in definite proportions by weight. The inference — quickly drawn—was that atoms of any single substance were identical and had a definite weight.

Found Binding Force.

Dalton said, in addition, that atoms clung together in forming compounds and that the forces which bound them varied in strength with the type of atom.

Other scientists went on to prove Dalton's theories.

Atoms were classified according to their weights. Their characteristics for combining were determined.

Later discoveries showed that at least three conceptions of the atom as advanced by Dalton's immediate successors were wrong, however.

It was found that, while the atom was the basic unit of structure, it was not the smallest particle.

The atom was not solid. It could be split.

Atoms of the same element were not identical. In fact, atoms of one element could be changed into atoms of another. This incidentally, was the dream of the ancient alchemists who sought means for turning lead into gold

Tito Says World Doesn't Want War

Tito said he hoped for improved relations between the United States and Yugoslavia, but that overtures would have to be made by the United States if friendly relations were to be established.

USES CHANGES REPORTING TIME OF SERVICEMEN

New Schedule Also Applies On Unemployment Claims.

A new reporting schedule for persons making applications for unemployment and servicemen's readjustment claims went into effect this week at the North Diamond street U.S.E.S office, C. W. Handley office manager reported.

The new schedule was instituted in preparation for the cut-over here to the Hollerith punch card system of operation, to go into effect Nov. 25.

Under the new reporting system, persons filing BUC and SRA claims will report to the office on the following schedule, according to the last digit in their social security number: 0—1 Monday, 2—3 Tuesday, 4—5 Wednesday, 6—7 Thursday, 8—9 Friday.

Payment In 3 Days

Under the new system claim payments will be made in approximately three days. It now requires from 10 days to two weeks, Handley said.

As an example checks should be received on Wednesday from applications that were filed on Monday of the same week, he explained.

The card punch machines will be located in Columbus to handle applications and the checks for all offices in the state.

Columbus Monday became the first office in the state to be cut over onto the new machine system.

Learn About System

In Mansfield, coinciding with the starting of the new reporting schedule, all staff members of the North Diamond street office began acquainting themselves with the new punch card system.

Employment of the new system is expected to cut the time required to handle claims here about one-third, Handley said.

The machines are capable of performing all kinds of statistical jobs, which include sorting 450 cards per minute, or printing off the data from 80 cards per minute.

Actors Shriek Convincingly, Patrons Faint

COPENHAGEN —(INS)— Playgoers who witnessed the opening performance of the drama "Dead Without Graves" in Copenhagen attested today to its realism.

Scores of first nighters were carried from the theater after fainting at the torture scenes depicting Europe under Nazi rule.

The spectators, who had lived through a German occupation, began collapsing when shrieks of agony emanated from the actors.

At the conclusion of the play, written by the French Philosopher Andre Sartres, the surviving members of the audience applauded weakly.

HOUSING LOANS VICTORY SEEN

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt feels certain of victory in his fight for loans of $65,000,000 to create a mass-production housing industry, dspite resistance from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and reported the first big monthly increase in new homes completed.

September brought a "particularly encouraging" gain of 25 per cent over August in getting houses ready for occupancy, Wyatt said in a monthly report. The number was 79,500, of which 49,800 were new permanent dwellings.

In the first nine months of the year, the housing drive was two-thirds of the way toward its goal of 1,200,000 dwellings started this year. Up to October, 808,700 had been begun, 430,200 finished.

At a news conference, Wyatt served notice that he will issue a directive to RFC, forcing favorable action under the powers granted him by the veterans emergency housing act on the request of a dozen companies for big loans to make assembly-line houses.

"A lot of other fundamental industries—like shipping and aviation—get federal aid, and without it they would not be the fundamental industries they are," Wyatt remarked.

Congress clearly intended that the government should take risks in stimulating the housing campaign, he said. He indicated he is keeping Reconversion Director John R. Steelman posted on the inter-agency conflict, and would hold further meetings with RFC.

Other officials reported that George E. Allen, a director of the RFC, had stated that the legality of the loans was under study and had privately conceded that Wyatt's powers are "pretty sweeping."

Foremen's Club Will Hear Of Chemical Industry Rise

The rise and the development of the chemical industry will be described in a lecture entitled "The Expanding Chemical Industry," to be given by Dr. Walter A. Dew, before the Mansfield-Shelby Foreman's club at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Many new products of the chemical industry and research laboratories will be used to illustrate the lecture. Dr. Dew will discuss the marked increase in employment, the increase in value of the products manufactured and the reductions in the cost of these products to the consumer.

Dr. Dew, manager of the eastern district, extension division of E. I. duPont Nemours & company, Wilmington, Del., is a graduate of Princeton university. He was assigned to the Manhattan project in 1943.

He is a member of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and of Sigma Xi honorary scientific society, and has done outstanding work in Boy Scout councils.

The Mansfield-Shelby Foreman's club, with a membership of approximately 300, was organized in the late 1920s through the efforts of C. L. VanDerau, plant manager of Westinghouse. He became the club's first president.

The club received its charter from the National Association of Foremen in January 1935.

In 1938 Shelby industries were added, and shortly thereafter Ashland industries were invited to join. More recently Plymouth industries sent representatives.

DR. WALTER A. DEW
Speaks to Foremen

The object of the club is to help the promotion of better foremanship by studying the needs and opportunities of industry and to make each individual foreman a power for good in his own organization and community.

Present officers are Harry Dailey Westinghouse Electric, president; Herman Clingan, Tappan Stove company, vice president; W. E. Renwick, Mansfield Brass and Auminum, secretary, and Lowell Moore, Mansfield Tire and Rubber, treasurer.

We know that you would like more Schlitz than present restrictions on the use of materials will permit us to make. But keeping up with demand is one thing and keeping up quality is another. When choice ingredients are limited, they will make just so much Schlitz. If we attempted tomake more beer under such conditions, it wouldn't be Schlitz. W YORK — (U.P.) — The girl hitting Broadway for a job it successfully in the same obe as an aspiring stenog- r. And if she's small and , she should be able to keep th the glamorous theatrical on a clothes budget of $500 r.

it's the advice and experi- of pretty junior-sized Jane ng, who danced her way Philadelphia to New York she was 12 and has now up to her third featured n "Three to Make Ready." looks that catch a direc- tor's eye, Miss Deering says, are the same neat, clean and well-groomed ones that appeal to the office manager hiring a typist. The only possible exception to that rule, she says, is when applying for a character part. Even so, the turnip-chewing image of Mrs. Jeeter Lester might well be passed up for a girl who looked as if she knew better.

Miss Deering says she's handled her success with a wardrobe pivoted on one good tailored suit, a basic black dress and a variety of blouses and costume jewelry shopped for at sales. She brightens up an occasional blouse or scarf with dime store sequins, sewed on behind the scenes as she waits for a cue.

The same clothes do for auditions and private life, she says, with the dancer's addition of a practice costume—about $1 worth of material and a handy needle—opera hose and toe shoes.

The young actress shops with an eye for fashions which won't go out of style overnight — "the girl on a budget has to be more conservative"—and her $500 yearly budget assumes there's a suit and dress or two left over from the year before or the year before that.

Her major purchases this winter were a black velvet and wool dressy suit, at $35, two dresses, black crepe and beige wool at about $15 each. Her price line is conveniently lowered by her junior size but even a queen-sized aspirant could make do on slightly more.

Evening dresses don't enter the budget. There may be one in the closet against an important function, but like most other successful career girls around town, Miss Deering finds her little black dress is as big a hit in the Stork club as anything else.

HOROSCOPE

For Tuesday, November 5.

The sidereal operations for this day while generally of most auspicious and encouraging aspects, promising exceptional opportunities for advancement, promotion and expansion in many desirable directions, with increased credit, financial ability, and sound investments, yet careless, extravagant, or unreasonable tactics might defeat the most rosy prospects. Approbation or substantial cooperation from public or influential sources might be undermined by a sudden erratic or impulsive course of conduct. Keep to accepted lines and conventions lest "tilting at windmills" prove costly.

Those whose birthday it is could have an exceptionally promising year for a productive, expansive and progressive program, in which the most cherished plans and objectives might be put over and bring honors and worthwhile returns. However, there is sign of a tendency to be rash, erratic, extravagant and impulsive, thereby ruining excellent prospects and bringing about loss, failure and distress. An unforeseen development may prove exciting and undermine good judgment and common sense.

A child born on this day will be capable and ambitious, but an erratic, impulsive and extravagant tendency may work against its success.

Hints On Correcting Speech

By EMILY POST

How to overcome faulty pronunciation is the subject of this letter: "Somewhere you wrote that it was possible to acquire ease of speech, but that this process should not be carried on in public. How can we make new habits and new words a part of us if we don't start at the bottom? Seems to me this statement is slightly contradictory."

Practice at home by reading aloud, make lists of words that you want to learn or prouunciations that you want to change, but don't think about your speech when you are out, because it is likely to make you self-conscious, which in turn is hard to overcome. By continual practice when alone, you will speak the way you want to without thought.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: My wedding had to be postponed and the invitations recalled. The outlook now is not very hopeful as my fiance has had to go to a sanitarium. The engagement however, has not been broken. What shall I do meanwhile with the wedding presents which already had been sent?

Answer: Keep them, at least for the present, in the hope that your fiance will be restored to health.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: Who buys the corsages worn at the wedding by the mothers? If there is no rule, then how can one family let the other know that they will buy them? It seems to me that the mothers should be consulted about what they prefer.

Answer: Custom varies with the locality. Many times mothers do not wear corsages. Often, their own husbands buy them and, on occasion, the bridegroom, but this is not a definite obligation of his as are, for example, the boutonnieres of the ushers.

Returning Invitation.

Dear Mrs. Post: I accepted an invitation to a dinner party which I will not be able to return because I live in a rooming house. I cannot possibly afford to entertain at a hotel or restaurant. Is giving a dinner the only way that I can return this hospitality?

Answer: It is not always necessary to return every invitation and never necessary to return it in kind. You might ask your hostess to go with you to a movie or you might go to a tearoom for afternoon tea. If nothing is practical, don't worry about it!

Books for the Younger Set

The books reviewed in this column will be available Monday at the Public Library.

ANIMALS ARE FUN say Arthur Gates and Althea Berry. There is a story about three deer and Joan. Another story tells about three bears and a fox. Did you ever see a camel ride a camel? That's what Funny did. Funny was a baby camel, too little to walk all the way on a long trip so he rode on his mother. There are two more good stories in this book and second grade boys and girls can read them without help.

For all you people who like mysteries Elizabeth Orton has written THE MYSTERY OF THE LOST LETTER. Ken and Marilyn ran errands for Miss Wayne. She almost never left her house and some people thought she was queer. They brought her her letters and one day they brought her a very important one from her brother. The letter disappeared from the table. Ken and Marilyn helped find the letter but before they found it they found mysterious noises, a cat that appeared from nowhere, a hidden staircase and a secret cave.

GLORIA, BALLET DANCER by Gladys Malvern has all the color and excitement of the theater. Gloria was an ordinary girl except for her talent as a dancer. After six years of lessons she had to give them up because her brother, Phil, had been hurt and the money was needed for him. Just at the right moment there came a chance at a job—a tryout for a part in a Broadway production. Gloria knew that she could dance, but nervousness and fright made her a miserable failure. Gloria gave up dancing, got a job in Blum's store. But fate meant Gloria to be a dancer, not a clerk, and things worked out for her

Would you like to turn cabbage blue? Would you like to make mercury? Would you like to know why water is different in different cities? Then AN OPEN DOOR TO CHEMISTRY by Horning and McGinnis is the book for you. Thirty-one experiments are described, step by step, with detailed lists of what you need and what you do. Each experiment is illustrated by a cartoon. Before the experiments there is a section on general chemistry that will tell you many new and interesting facts.

Why Thousands of Doctors Have Prescribed

PERTUSSIN FOR BAD COUGHS

(CAUSED BY COLDS)

PERTUSSIN must be good when thousands of Doctors have prescribed it for so many years. PERTUSSIN acts at once to relieve such coughing. It actually loosens phlegm and makes it easier to raise. Safe and effective for both old and young. Pleasant tasting, too!

Dorothy Kilgallen—

Jottings in Pencil—Reports persist that Lana Turner is planning to flash a betrothal announcement. . . . Mickey Rooney and Connie Haines, currently at the RKO Boston, are heading toward a new house record. They took in $11,000 on Saturday alone and are expected to top the Sinatra figures. . . . The editorial staff at one of the nation's greatest magazines reports that money seems to have shrunken in more ways than one: the cigaret and refreshment slot machines there work with any 10-cent coin except Roosevelt dimes, they say—the latter slide right down through the refund chute even when the smokes and candy bars are in the machines. . . . Greer Garson's husband, young Richard Ney, stole the plaudits in the "reaction cards" passed out to audiences at the sneak preview of "The Late George Apley."

* * *

Mary Kirk Brown's most recent husband, Joe White, has returned from Mexico a broken man, and all because of a hot dog. He tried to get into the pickle-in-the-middle-and-mustard - on - top business down Mexico way and was blocked by Latin-American authorities who refused to let the frankfurter interests escape from them. . . . When Lady Iris Mountbatten arrives in Hollywood, on personal business, she will also take time for a screen test by the Seymour Nebenzahl productions. . . . Here it is nearly November and the posies in Central Park are in bright full bloom. Sunday the June-like weather precipitated a business boom for hansom cabbies, who receive $3 for half an hour and $1 for each additional half hour. Result: the cabbies coyly limited each customer to just a half hour's ride, alibiing that old Dobbin had had a hard day and could take on only 30 minutes more.

Olivia de Haviland's fan mail has jumped 200 per cent since the release of "To Each His Own" and "The Dark Mirror"—and no wonder. . . . Gene Amory, of the sensational Amory Brothers quartette at Leon & Eddie's, will waltz down the aisle with Ginny Spehar, the luscious looker who checks hats at the Embassy. . . . Cy Walter, the Drake Room's keyboard-caresser, and his bride, the former Jane Dixon, have Reno in the bean-o.

Chic and common sense go hand and hand at the Coq Rouge. When you order a creme de menthe frappe at that fastidious boite, the shaved ice is the same emerald green as the liquid contents. Boniface Bonacchini has his bartender mix the green mint with the water before it is frozen into ice. . . . The Noel Coward dialogue in "Present Laughter" has competition in the sensational frocks Henriette Harra has designed for Jan Sterling. . . . The Dorset Lounge, in a gesture that must be the height of something or other, holds chairs for celebrities, with name cards on them in the manner of the Hollywood sets.

Philly's newest night spot, Mocambo's, opens tonight with guests paying a $25 per person tariff. Jackie Gleason and Phyllis Arnold are featured. . . . Kenneth Roberts, the novelist, reports that contrary to the rumors he hasn't sold "Lydia Bailey," his new one, to the cinema studios.

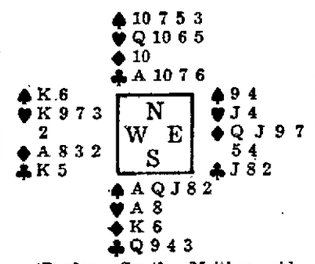
Barclay on Bridge

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

From among a choice of evils for the opening lead against a suit contract—when the bidding has given no information about the declarer's side suits—the underlead of an ace is usually the worst. That is because there is such a likelihood that the declarer or dummy has the king, with a singleton in one holding or the other, which would cause the shutting out of your ace. If you feel you must lead the suit, the ace is ordinarily the less risky opening.

At several tables of a duplicate, the bidding was the same, and in all those cases West led a diamond, either the A or the 2. Where it was the small card, the K of course won. One able declarer then ruffed the diamond 6 in dummy, scored the spade A, then put West in with the K, having counted on West for all the high cards. That end-played West, assuring an extra trick. A club or heart return would have shut West out of any trick in its suit,



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	2 ♥	2 ♠	Pass
4 ♠

and the diamond actually returned enabled South to avoid a heart loser by ruffing in dummy and discarding his heart 8.

In the other case of the diamond 2 lead, a habitual finesser lost to all three of West's kings, yet made his contract.

Where the diamond A was led, West repeated the suit to the K. The inept declarer who tried three finesses there was set, and the one who took his spade A and then threw West in with the K barely made his contract by that device, instead of an extra trick.

SISTER OF HEROES WEDS

Try and Stop Me

—By Bennet Cerf

A small hotel caught fire in the middle of the night. One guest was not yet asleep, so he got out quickly, and stood with the usual crowd of sensation-seekers, watching less fortunate guests run out, jump out, and be carried out by resolute firemen.

He turned to the man beside him and observed smugly, "I don't see how people allow themselves to be panicked by a fire. Take me, for instance, I dressed carefully, put my valuables in my jacket and emerged calmly. You see I even took time to put on my collar and tie."

The man addressed looked at him for the first time. "Don't you think," he said, "that it would be even better if your long underwear matched the jacket?"

In Chicago (unless the wire services are kidding) Ignatz Zabrini wrapped a lead pipe around the head of a man who was trying to sell him a set of Victor Hugo on the installment plan, then explained in court, "Sure I hit him with a lead pipe—but it was the soft end."

Army To Dismiss Half of Engineers

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Economies resulting from President Truman's order curtailing flood control expenditures likely will mean dismissal of half of the army engineer corps' 40,000 employes, a government official said last night. He said several division and district offices already have been closed.
